WHY CHOOSE MODERN LANGUAGES & LINGUISTICS?

The major in Modern Languages and Linguistics offers an innovative, flexible, interdisciplinary curriculum that combines the study of modern languages, linguistics and communication. Our students gain cultural competence and language proficiency in such languages as American Sign Language (ASL), Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Russian, and Spanish. In order to play a meaningful role in world discourse, in order to protect our national security and in order to compete with our international counterparts in every field of study imaginable, the knowledge of modern languages is now a fundamental and indispensable part of every student's education.

THE BOTTOM LINE

As citizens of today's world, our students benefit greatly from the study of modern languages, which prepares them to communicate and interact with large populations of speakers coming from different cultural and ideological backgrounds. Additionally, through the completion of a core course in linguistics or anthropological linguistics and the option of completing additional electives in linguistics and communication, our students can apply their specific language and cultural studies to broader contexts.
