

New Concentration in Multiethnic American Literatures

Student: _____ Rowan ID: _____ Date of Entry: _____

Concentration in Multiethnic American Literatures
(12 credits) www.rowan.edu/English

This 12-hour concentration offers students the opportunity to study in-depth, key texts and contexts of ethnic American literatures. Students will cultivate a critical awareness of the ways in which mutually constitutive categories of ethnicity, race, indigeneity, class, gender, and sexuality inform the evolution of African American, Asian American, Latino/a, and Native American literary canons.

Students must take the following three courses:

- Native American Literature (ENGL 02.215) 3 s.h.
 - Prerequisites: College Composition I (COMP 01.111) or Intensive College Composition I (COMP 01.105)
- Asian American Literature (ENGL 02.360) 3 s.h.
 - Prerequisites: College Composition II (COMP 01.112) and Critical Methods I for English Majors (ENGL 02.101)
 - Co-requisites: Critical Methods II for English Majors (ENGL 02.202)
- U.S. Latino/a Literature (ENGL 02.365) 3 s.h.
 - Prerequisites: College Composition II (COMP 01.112) and Critical Methods I for English Majors (ENGL 02.101)
 - Co-requisite: Critical Methods II for English Majors (ENGL 02.202)

Students must also take one of the following two courses:

- African American Literature I (ENGL 02.354) 3 s.h.
 - Prerequisites: College Composition II (COMP 01.112) and Critical Methods I for English Majors (ENGL 02.101)
 - Co-requisites: Critical Methods II for English Majors (ENGL 02.202)
- African American Literature II (ENGL 02.355) 3 s.h.
 - Prerequisites: College Composition II (COMP 01.112) and Critical Methods I for English Majors (ENGL 02.101)
 - Co-requisites: Critical Methods II for English Majors (ENGL 02.202)